

International Seminar Multidimensional Approach of Poverty Measurement

Hosted by Institute for Economic Studies, Keio University and National Institute of Population and Social Security Research

27th Mar. 14:00–17:00

North Building Hall, Mita Campus, Keio University

Part I

14:00 Introduction

Issues of the Public Assistance Policy and the Support System for Self-reliance of Needy Persons in Japan

by Kohei Komamura (Professor, Keio University)

14:20 Keynote Speech

The Measurement of Multidimensional Poverty and the Order of Curtailment of Expenditure

by Jacques Silber (Professor, Bar-Ilan University)

Part II

15:45 Poverty Studies in Japan

Minimum Income Research in Japan: Its Development and Political Implications

by Aya Abe (Professor, Tokyo Metropolitan University)

A Poverty Profile of Japan

by Kuriko Watanabe (Researcher, National Institute of Population and Social Security Research)

16:55 Closing Remarks

by Hisao Endo (Director-General, National Institute of Population and Social Security Research)

English-Japanese simultaneous interpretation is available.

Registration form (until 22nd March) : <https://goo.gl/forms/TKyhLtJWJk79JoNk1>

Inquiry : National Institute of Population and Social Security Research TEL:03-3595-2984